Summer 2016 Recap

Thursday and Friday of this week are general election voting days from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. for those who have not voted yet. The last day of early voting is today, Thursday, Nov. 3, 2016. I have always been in the habit of not voting on election day but will set aside this year for those who work to win this election.

As many of you know, I have supported the election of Mayor Sylvester Turner for many years. Throughout the past campaign period I have served the people who intend to make the serious decision, which will shape the future of our city.

For those who live in the east side of the city, I am going to make a special trip to visit the east side, if you have Community Leaders, and Council Members Dwight A. Boykins, A.D. S. P. House and another member of the office staff will be at those voting locations.

To those of you who live in this area and for those of you who live in this area and for the work of this campaign, I am going to make a special trip to visit the east side, if you have Community Leaders, and Council Members Dwight A. Boykins, A.D. S. P. House and another member of the office staff will be at those voting locations.

So, can someone enlighten us as to what this will mean to America?

So, can someone enlighten us as to what this will mean to America?

Merely saying that someone dropped a vote is not what we have to do. Only you can make the decision of how much you will care for your country.

I, as well as a number of other people, have no idea if we will ever be able to do this again.

Several times during the course of this campaign period I have made a special trip to visit the east side of the city.

Moore opens new playground

Through generous donations from Pasadena businesses and community members, Moore Elementary officials cut the ribbon on the school’s new playground on Oct. 22.

“We are so thankful that we have finally been able to build a playground at Moore so that our students and community can benefit from it,” said Moore Principal Jill Lacamu.

With El Franco Lee Park in close proximity and the outdoor environment initially faced challenges by Moore Elementary's principal, strong community support and strong desire to build a playground in the neighborhood.

“The park is basically at the back of our building, but it is located on a busy street so there are no sidewalks and the main entrance is about a half a mile away,” Lacamu said. “We needed our own playground that学生 could access safely and use on a daily basis.”

Passing by Moore on her daily commute, Fernandez and Memorial's PE and volleyball coach recognized the need for a playground and eventually decided to take action.

The team pitched an idea to the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce and requested to host a luncheon through their annual Taste of Pasadena event, which they won. The “Build a Playground” event included a ribbon-cutting ceremony at the back of the school. Funding for the event, which typically garners $10,000 for a playground and physical equipment, was not able to be raised by the students themselves.
